

Losing Control in the Present:

Abortion Here, There and Everywhere

The present of abortion

Which or whose present?

Do we even have the same present?

Where is my fun and where is my candy shop
for abortion?

There is only the present.
It matters the most.

Not abortion once upon the time, not abortion sometime in the future, BUT abortion right now, for real and for certain.

We are in a revolutionary moment now.

We have abortion networks, not empty systems.

People, not policies or the f*g police.

Pills, not procedures.

We have abortion practice that travels and evolves from place to place and time to time.

Abortion in-clinic, at-home, online and in-transit.

Multiverse of abortions.

The present is constantly contaminated and screwed by the past.

All laws and regulations are outdated and there is NO single legal or medical regime that is evidence- and human rights standards- based.
*(like the WHO recommends)

Forcing abortion into medical and legal regimes is the core mistake.

Speculating about the future
is a luxury we cannot afford
in the present.

Are we the facilitators or are we
the obstructors to abortion
access and freedom?

Innovations in abortion take place outside of the oppressive systems of medicine, law and market.

One day, in the future,

you will understand that the era of disciplining our pussies

has already finished today.

Prevention is NOT technologically or morally better than abortion used like or instead of contraceptives.

The present is forced to be always two steps ahead of the future
oppressions.

The present must be resilient to the dangers of the future.

There is no time anymore
to procrastinate the decriminalization of abortion.

Abortion is OUT OF CONTROL in the present.

It is intersectional, radically trans inclusive, queer, more affordable, anti-racist, slutty and sex positive.

Fight harder to improve practices of your own peers, who grasp the power or hold on to it, either ignore or report patients and activists, and then are offended when called out on their scam, passivity and wide-spread systemic violence in the ob-gyn field.

Make space, urgently.

The abortion mainstream has become ineffective and redundant.

Please focus on where you are so very needed – to provide abortions later in the pregnancy and to treat complications.

Let's change the content and not just the cover of the book.
